

Trades Council and the Hearst-O'Donnell trades union edition of the Chicago Examiner interests only members of labor unions.

But they are mistaken. It affects every man, woman and child in Chicago, for it affects the entire industrial situation in Chicago. I shall point out from time to time the significance I see in this situation. It will be strangely interesting to those who can see.

I don't expect to interest the very ignorant; and I include among the very ignorant the general run of business men and money-chasers. They don't know much outside of their own money-making business. They have their nose so deep in the business rut that they can't stop making money long enough to look around them and see what is going on in the world.

This particular fight is only an incident, a mere skirmish in a great war. But its relation to that great industrial war will appear. Those who want to know what is going on will find it to their advantage to read regularly a newspaper that publishes the news, and especially the news that affects all labor, and hence all humanity.

That Mexican thing isn't a circumstance to it. And the Balkan war has no such human significance. The greatest war in the history of humanity, the industrial war, is being practically ignored by the newspapers that claim to be printing the news.

Before YOU get through you will find that the Chicago Day Book is the greatest NEWSPAPER in the world.

—o—o—o—
The banks don't seem to be hungry for Sec'y McAdoo's reserve currency, despite the "money tightness." Maybe banks get more for use of their money when money isn't loose.

—o—o—o—
Hans Bauder, Swiss central figure in recent embezzling trials, to be deported by federal authorities.

CHICAGO BRIEFS

Chicago second annual water carnival and naval pageant will open on lake front at Grant Park when Pres. Wilson presses button at 2 o'clock.

Justice of the Peace Noah J. Henning, which is a temperance town, is accused of taking money from "blind pigs," according to charges made to County Judge Owens and Sheriff Zimmer.

Morris Shindell, 1446 W. Harrison st., stabbed to death, and Isadore Rebstein, 1507 W. Harrison st., badly cut in fight with Sam and Phillip Kirshinaki, brothers, in front of 407 S. Throop st.

State nolle prossed case of Frederick Mordaunt, publisher of National Railway Magazine, who was arrested on complaint of Josephine Selwood, 17.

Several more Chicagoans given state jobs by Gov. Dunne.

Harper's Weekly made its initial appearance under editorship of Norman Hapgood yesterday.

Blanche Appell, 4507 Clifton av., knocked down and injured by auto owned and driven by B. N. Pinkerton, 920 Argyle st.

Police looking for Laura Wilburn, 15, 636 W. 25th pl., who disappeared Thursday night.

John Kolotis, 801 S. Halsted st., and Antonio Salorno, 1130 W. Polk st., flirted with Policewomen Willsey and Olson, Maxwell st. station. Cost they $10 and costs each.

Jack Burns, 629 W. Madison st., went on water wagon 15 days ago. Died yesterday.

Schuettler's "open" gambling squad transferred. No reasons given.

Joseph Paykos, 4836 S. Robey st., employe of Swift & Co., touched live wire in tallow refinery. Dead.

10,000 Irish-Americans expected to attend 38th annual picnic of United Irish Societies to be held in Brand's Park today.

4,000,000 American women have